Another British Criticism on Senator Sum ner's Speech.

LONDON, May 11, 1869. The Morning Standard (conservative organ) to-day has a leading article on the Alabama question and the speech of Senator Sumner in the United States Senate in opposition to that measure. The writer reviews the relative positions of the United States and Great Britain, and asserts that the raids and and Great Britain, and asserts that the raids and other outrages perpetrated by American Fenians in Canada during the past few years more than over-balance the depredations committed by the Alabama on American commerce. The government of Great tional grievances to arbitration, did more than could be fairly demanded, and to yield further would be an act of cowardice and irreparable degradation.

The Municipal Election in Providence To-Day-Withdrawal of Doyle and Substitution of Nicholas Van Slyck as the Democratic Candidate for Mayor.
PROVIDENCE, May 11, 1869.

The municipal election which occurs here to-mor row has caused more excitement the past week than has ever been known here in any previous election. votes, and rum has been free to all who wanted it since Saturday night. The candidates for the office of Mayor are George L. Clarke, in the interest of Brown' & Ives, and Nicholas Van Sivek, the democratic nominee. Until to-night the principal opponent of Mr. Clarke was Thomas A. Doyle, who has been Mayor for the past five years and was in the Sprague interest. He has withdrawn at the last moment, however, and there is no doubt now of the election of Mr. Clarke. The streets are thronged with people to-night, as they have been most of the time for several days and evenings, discussing the new features which the canvass presents. Now that Mr. Doyle has withdrawn the democrats profess to think that the Doyle adherents will vote for Van Slyck.

HORSE NOTES.

Professor Hamilton, the great horse tamer, & & more. He died on Monday night of measies. The Professor was a wonderful man in his business. He subdued the most victous horses as if by magne. Hamilton had established a school in this city to disseminate his art among horsenien, and met with great success, the number of his pupils amounting to over a thousand. The lessons he taught in his brief sojourn here will not be torgotten.

Mr. Lovell has matched his bay gelding Young Commodore, a son of Mr. Turnbull's stallion Commodore Vanderbilt, against John Chambers' bay gelding Twist. The match is for $1,000, and the conditions are that Chambers has to drive his own horse to wagon, Young Commodore going in harness. The ditions are that Chambers has to drive his own horse to wagon, Young Commodore going in harness. The race is mile heats, best three in five, and will come of at an early day.

There are some wonderful stories current about extraordinary time being made in private within a few days by George Palmer and Mountain Boy. These stories have a tendency to mislead the gubic and they should be listened to with a large degree of allowance for exargeration. Horses that make unprecedented time in private seldom do it in public. A mile track, with competent judges in the stand, is the only true time test.

William Borst offers to match the stallion George Wilkes against Mountain Boy two races, one in harness, the other to wazon, mile heats, best three in five, for $2,500 each race.

Dan Mace is getting Amasa Sprague's brown stallion Rhode Island into shape for speed. He will be ready and in fine condition for his first engagements. Dan has also got Western New York in pretty good form. This borse will be found quite troublesome in the 2:29 purses.

Lew Martin is driving his sorrel gelding on the road, He is looking well and trotting fast.

Mr. Ferguson's Needle Gun is at the Fashion Course, doing well. He trotted a half mille in a trial the other morning in 1:13, and afterwards a quarter in thirty-five seconds. He will prove a formidable competitor in the Prospect Park Far 2:29 purse.

Mr. Briggs has a beautful Eureka mare that he calls Belle, that can beat 2:40.

John McKune's trotting stallion Toronto Chief was trotting fast on the road on Sunday morning.

Mr. Harbeck's gray horse Surprise, entered in the 2:20 purse at Prospect Park, is doing well. He is in training at Paterson, N. J., under the care of James McKee.

Mr. Sense W. Gillie's brown Henry Clay horse Dick was trotting very fast on Monday afternoon on McComb's dam road, regardless of dust and danger, it takes a 2:30 horse to stay with him when at speed,

Mr. James W. Gille's brown Henry Chay horse bick was trotting very fast on Monday afternoon on McComb's dam road, regardless of dust and danger. It takes a 2:30 horse to stay with him when at speed, and a better one to beat him.

Mr. Trimble was driving his handsome brown mare Nuron on the road on Saturday. She is fast and has very square trotting action.

Mr. Deviln has a short tailed bay horse that looks like a trotter. like a trotter.

The Paterson race meeting commences next Tuesday.

Purse No. 4, of a series offered by the proprietor of the Fashion Course, will be trotted for this afternoon. There are seven entries.

Mr. Morris' mare Ruthless and his colt Monday, we understand, have both been turned out, and will not run at any of the coming race meetings. This is to be regretted, as Ruthless would have been a great favorite in both the handicans at Jerome Park. Monday would have been the favorite in the two mile heat race had he stood training. The gentleman who informed us of Mr. Morris' ill luck also stated that Mr. O'Donnell's coit the Duke was so lame in a hind ankle that he had to be let up. Shouid the latter not recover in time to take part in the races for the handicaps Bayswater's chances will be very good for both of them.

THE GREENLAND BLOODHORSE ASSOCIATION.

LOUISVILLE, May 11, 1869. The attendance at the Greenland Course to-day was quite large, the weather beautiful and the track

Dick Jackson, by Revenue, dam Victoria, by Margrave, four years old, and A. Buford's b. c. Crossland, by Lexington, dam Tennessee mare, four years old, which was won by Crossland, he winning both heats and coming in ahead on every mile except the first in the first heat, which was awarded to Dick Jackson. Time.—First heat—First mile, 1:53½; two miles, 3:52½,

At the close of this race the judges announced that the entries for the selling race, mile heats, for all arges, had been withdrawn. The meeting will, however, continue until the close of the week under a new regime.

RILLIARDS.

Extraordinary Game. Numerous matches between the recognized cham pions of billiard playing throughout the United states, have already arisen because of the exhibitions in the late tournament; and many second-rate players who have long had the assurance to consider themselves first class, have cropped out at this juncture, and challenged those players who were the unsuccessful in obtaining the first orsecond prizes, with the hope that their defeats have proved demoralizing. The first of these youngsters has already been worldly mistaken, masmuch as Morris Daley, of New York, who has been "cracked up" as a "wonderful shot," challenged William Goldthwaite, of Brooklyn, E. D., who has recently been unfortunate in some of his several games, to a match carrom game of 1,200 points, on a second size tables with no pockets. It was played last evening at the Astor billiard rooms, before a very select audience, and proved a lamentable defent for Daley—one that may prove an excellent lesson for him. tions in the late tournament; and many second-rate

So well did the former play-with all the zeal and skill of his earlier years; with so much seeming well did the former play—with all the zeal and skill of his earlier years; with so much seeming confidence that at the sixteenth inning, he was 940 against Daley's 241, and thus to the end he made quite excellent runs, as on the twenty-third inning his score counted 1,201 to his opponent's 370; beating him not only 830 points, but displaying much greater skill in every possible respect. The score was as follows:

Goldthwaite—9, 3, 126, 33, 42, 0, 4, 60, 102, 84, 72, 96, 219, 48, 24, 18, 66, 0, 6, 57, 87, 6, 39—1,201.

THE METROPOLITAN POLICE.

Important Action in Reference to the Excise Law to Follow the Reorganization of the Police Board.

put in an official appearance at Police Headquarters yesterday for the first time since his appointment The Board of Police held a private session while he was in the building, but he took no part in it whatever, for reasons which are best known to himseif. This morning, no best known to himself. This morning, no doubt, much to the satisfaction of the thousand and one politicians who have been on the anxious seat for weeks past in anticipation of the momentous event, the Board will organize for the ensuing year, when the offices of President and Treasurer will be filled. It is almost a foregone conclusion that Mr. Matthew Brennan will be elected President and Mr. Smith Treasurer. There are rumors that Judge Bosworth may possibly be President, but as he is now President of the Excise Board there is no very great probability of the rumors being confirmed by the action of the Board to-day. One reason why so much interest is felt in the reorganization of the Commission in other than police circles just now is that it is the intention of certain of the members to make a bold fight in the Board of Excise for a reduction of the liquor license fees in this county and other counties under the jurisdiction of the Board. Mr. Manniere and Dr. Stone are said to be favorable to a reduction, and their votes, with those of Commissioners Rennan, Bosworth and Smith, will be sufficient to carry the motion when made. Liquor dealers are on the 4nt even accordingly.

BROOKLYN BOARD OF FIRE COMMISSIONERS.

Early this morning the principal men of the Union Pacific Ratiroad arrived here from Echo and Weber canons, where they had been superintending the repairs of several bridges damaged by raise water. The first palace sleeping car ever seen on the Pacific territory was brought over the worst bridge, at Devil's Gate, by ropes, it not being considered safe to use a locomotive. The passengers consisted of T. C. Durant, vice president of the Union Pacific Railroad; Sidney Dillon, director; John Duff, director; Colonel Seymour, consulting engineer; General Dodge, chief engineer; Samuel B. Reed, superintendent of construction; General Casement, D. T. Casement, Mr. Boyd, D. Henry, Major Bent and other contractors; George Leddie, superintendent of bridges; L. H. Echois, assistant superintendent of bridges, and many others of the Union Pacific men. Of the Central Pacific Railroad there were Gov-ernor Stanford, president; John Corning, assistant intendent of construction; Stephenson, civil engi Salt Lake city, consisting of Colonel Jennings, vice president of the Utah Central Railroad; Bishop Sharp, of Union Pacific contracting firm of Sharp

There were also Edgar Mills, banker, of Sacramento; General Houghton, ex-Surveyor General of California; L. W. Houghton, ex-Surveyor General of California; L. W. Coe, president of the Pacific Union Express; Judge Sanderson, of the Supreme Bench of California; Dr. Harkness, of Sacramento; Dr. Stillman, William Sherman and Roll T. tailsts, professional railroad men and graders, with a few ladies—were on the ground to witness the completion of this great work.

The scene was a grassy valley on a mountain which divides the north end of Great Salt Lake into two bays, far away from all signs of civilization except such as surround the railroad camps. A chosen party of skilled Chinese levelled the ground and laid the last few ties, and the last pair of rails were placed and spiked to all but the last tie, the spikes being driven by Mr. Nottingham, President of the Michigan Central and Lake Shore Railroad. Commissioners Sherman, Hoyne, Strawbridge and Reed, superincendents of construction, placed the polished lauret tie with sliver plate, sent by California, under the rail. The ends and Joints were adjusted by the respective officers of the Union Pacific, taking the right hand rail looking east and the Central Pacific the left hand. Edgar Mills, as master of ceremonies, called upon Rev. Dr. Todd, of Pittsfield, to invoke the blessing of the Deity on their work. Dr. Harkness, with a few words, offered California's gift of a golden spike, which was accepted by Vice President Durant, and by him placed in the auger hole. Mr. F. A. Trittle, in the name of Nevana, offered a silver spike with a neat sentiment. Governor Stanford accepted and placed it. Governor Stanford responded for the railroad over which he presided. After recounting their labors and anxietics, and expressing a wish for aimty, peace and co-operation between the companies, he spoke of the great future for railroads, when freights by railroad shall be less than any other mode of carriage. General Dodge responded for the Union Acide Railroad, and concluded by saying they had built the pathway to lindia.

responded for the Union Pacific Railroad, and concluded by saying they had built the pathway to India.

Edgar Mills added a few words and presented a giver sledge hammer in the name of the Pacific Union Express Company. Governor Stanford received it, and the telegraph wire having been connected with it and vice President Durant having arrived with the ordinary tool, the signal was given and the President of the Central and vice President of the Union drove home the last spikes. At Stanford's blow the electric current through hundreds of cannon made known to the world that the great work which will revolutionize commerce was accomplished, and that courage, patience and skill had achieved what was a few years ago laughed at as the dream of enthusiasts. When the shouts of joy had subsided the telegrams to the President of the United States and to the Associated Press were read, and the ceremony concluded with three cheers for every one concerned in building the road, from the laborer who did the work to the government that furnished the means. Many congratulations and expressions of mutual respect and esteem passed between officers of roads, once rivals, now united and with common interests in building up the traffic of both coasts and developing the country through which they pass. California's interest in this day's work on Promontory Summit is rest in this day's work on Promontory Summit is only second to that of the fluding of gold at Sutter's Mil, and the results are likely to be as supendous in their effects on the Pacific slope and on the world at

STEAMTHE EXPLOSION IN THE BAY.

At about half-past seven o'clock yesterday morning the boiler of the steaming Joseph Becker ex-Staten Island, carrying away the pilot house and a the upper works of the vessel. Captain Philip Shertdan, the captain of the boat; James Day, the engineer, and Charles O. Adams, the steward, were neer, and Charles O. Adams, the steward, were blown into the water and narrowly escaped drowning. The captain is seriously bruised and injured, but it is thought he will survive. Marshai Day and Edward Van Hoesen, firemen, who were in the engine room at time of the explosion, were seriously scalded, but will probably recover. The men were rescued by the Quarantine ambulance steamer Governor Fenton and taken to the Seamen's Retreat, Staten Island, where their injuries were properly attended to. The hull of the Becker was towed up to the city by the tug Epsilion, which was passing at the time. The Becker belongs to Mesars, Seater & O'Hara, No. 208 West street, and is valued at $12,000. Her boiler was almost a new one, and no reason can be assigned for the unfortunate accident. It will probably cost about $6,000 to repair her. At the time of the accident she was towing the brig Archier, bound for St. John, N. B.

[From the Newark Evening Courier, May 10.] Newark, with its 130,000 inhabitants, affords an abundant journalistic field, not for the city papers only, but for the entire press of New York. As Newark has no Sunday papers our New York brethren do not suffer from home competition on that day, and of course do their prettiest to compete with each other. The following list comprise
